

Remote Testing Options for WIOA Title I Programs

| ABE/ASE Assessments                                                    | Administer Remotely?                                                                                                                                                                            | More Information                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TABE 13&amp;14 Reading TABE 13&amp;14 Math | Yes, if using TABE 13&amp;14 computer-based tests. Paper tests cannot be given remotely. Up to 15 students can be tested at one time, but only 5 at a time is recommended. | In order to administer the TABE 13&amp;14 test remotely, a program must be using the TABE computer-based test. Paper tests cannot be given remotely. Anyone who gives a student the TABE 13&amp;14 must be trained in test administration by taking the TABE 13&amp;14 Proctor Training course in the iLEARN system.) Giving the TABE 13&amp;14 remotely requires additional training because it is a labor-intensive process with very specific technology requirements including the use of a web conferencing platform such as Zoom. Remote TABE proctors must complete the TABE 13&amp;14 Remote Proctor Training course in the iLEARN system. Visit this site to learn more about using the TABE 13&amp;14:https://excellenceinadulthood.org/abe-ase-assessments. Questions about the TABE 13&amp;14 should be sent to: Anita Kerr at anikerr@siue.edu              |
| CASAS Reading GOALS 2 CASAS Math GOALS 2   | Yes, if using the computer-based eTest. Paper tests cannot be given remotely. Up to 15 students can be tested at one time, but only 5 at a time is recommended.            | In order to administer the CASAS Reading GOALS 2 or Math GOALS 2 test remotely, a program must be using the computer-based eTest. Paper tests cannot be given remotely. Remote proctors must complete 3 trainings: CASAS Implementation Training with the Title II Adult Education PD Network, CASAS eTests Proctor Certification on the CASAS.org online training portal, and the Illinois Remote Proctor Training for CASAS course in the iLEARN system. Administering the GOALS test remotely is a labor-intensive process with very specific technology requirements. Proctors must be able to use a web conferencing platform such as Zoom. Visit this site to learn more about using CASAS Reading GOALS 2 and Math GOALS 2:https://excellenceinadulthood.org/abe-ase-assessments. Questions about the CASAS GOALS test should be sent to Anita Kerr at anikerr@siue.edu. |

| ELA(EnglishLanguageAcquisition)Assessments | AdministerRemotely?                                                                                                                                                      | More Information                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| CASAS STEPS                                                    | Yes, if using the computer-based eTest. Paper tests cannot be given remotely. Up to 15 students can be tested at one time, but only 5 at a time is recommended. | To administer the CASAS Reading STEPS or Listening STEPS test remotely, a program must be using the computer-based eTest. Paper tests cannot be given remotely Remote proctors must complete 3 trainings: CASAS Implementation Training with the Title II Adult Education PD Network, CASAS eTests Proctor Certification on the CASAS.org online training portal, and the Illinois Remote Proctor Training for CASAS course in the iLEARN system. Administering this test remotely is a labor-intensive process with very specific technology requirements. Proctors must be able to use a web conferencing platform such as Zoom. Visit this site to learn more about using CASAS STEPS: https://excellenceinadulted.org/ela-assessments. Questions about the CASAS STEPS test should be sent to Catherine Porter at cporter@cntrmail.org |

*Please note: Some Title II students may be administered a BEST Plus 3.0, BEST Literacy 2.0, or TABE CLAS-E assessment in their adult education programs, but these tests will not be administered by Title I programs, as they do not result in grade level equivalencies.